THE PASTOR'S PAGE

Some of our older members may remember that before the AIDS crisis one of the most terrifying diseases that people lived in fear of was polio. It was the cruelest of diseases because it overwhelmingly targeted children, and it would break out primarily in the warm summer months, killing or permanently crippling its victims within days. When Dr. Jonas Salk announced that a vaccine had been developed, the much hoped for cure went from experimental laboratory to the doctor's office in record time.

But think about the disastrous consequences if the polio epidemic had happened today. Now, due to cautious testing, research on possible side effects, and insurance entanglements, it would take years to approve and circulate a vaccine, especially with so many people today blaming vaccines for causing problems such as autism. But in 1953, panic over the approach of yet another hot, polio-ridden summer spurred public opinion ahead of scientific caution. Thousands of school-age children were immediately lined up to participate in test runs of the vaccine. The fear and impatience of parents whose children had fallen victim to the disease caused politicians and scientists to rally together to produce an unstoppable force. The Salk vaccine quickly went into production and did indeed become the much hoped for cure for polio.

It seems that whenever enough people rally together and raise their voices as one, things quickly get accomplished. Any politician, any legislature, will give in to the will of the public when it becomes clear that the people have become of one mind. At times like this public sentiment reaches what scientists call a "critical mass," a term originally used by physicists to describe the conditions necessary for an atomic chain reaction to occur once a critical number of atoms begin splitting.

Once critical mass is achieved, it is unstoppable and the ensuing nuclear chain reaction results in the release of tremendous amounts of energy.

Sociologists tell us that the principal of critical mass applies to people as well as atoms. There always seems to be some magic number that must be reached for things to get accomplished. In congress, a two-thirds majority is necessary for legislation to get passed. But for a nuclear chain reaction to begin, the critical mass necessary is exceedingly small. The few atoms that begin splitting are called the "critical mass" because they are the critical few that cause a tremendous number of other atoms to do likewise. And what happens with atoms can happen with people. A critical few can cause widespread changes in society. Jesus Christ and his small group of disciples were a critical mass that caused the most widespread societal changes the world has ever seen.

It could be said that Jesus was the first to talk about the principal of critical mass when he said, “Truly I tell you, if two of you on earth agree about anything you ask for, it will be done for you by my Father in heaven. For where two or three come together in my name, there am I with them” (Matthew 18:19-20). By Christ’s presence through the power of the Holy Spirit tremendous energies can be released for the good of the world. If you doubt this, I would remind you that it was a chain reaction of events started by a handful of people gathered in the name of Jesus that brought about the collapse of the Soviet Union. It all started when a pastor in East Germany and a few of his parishioners felt called by Christ to stage a protest at the Berlin Wall. That brave, death-defying act soon became an inspiration to many others, and night after night the number of protestors grew until they became a critical mass which even the East German army could not contain. When the critical mass had been attained, the chain reaction was unstoppable and soon spread to other communist nations and eventually the Soviet Union collapsed, something no one ever thought could happen. But happen it did, and it was all started by a few gathered in Jesus’ name.

Closer to home, at our worship celebration on Sunday, September 8th, I learned much more about how, at the beginning of the 21st century, a critical mass was achieved here at Zion’s which produced a chain reaction of energy, hard work, and incredible financial stewardship resulting in the doubling of the size of our church building, and most recently the paying off of our mortgage in a remarkably short period of time. The challenge before us now is to keep that powerful chain reaction going. Critical mass has been achieved and this beautifully functional modern building stands before us, presenting all kinds of possibilities for the future mission and ministries of this congregation. God surely blessed us with this beautiful building for a reason: to continue to further the gospel of Jesus Christ here in our community and throughout the world. So, it is now incumbent upon us to use this building for all it’s worth! To that end, our Strategic Planning Task Force is once again gearing up to envision and solidify our goals, plans, and dreams for future ministries here at Zion’s. As our Task Force chairperson, Ben Haas, has announced in recent weeks, we are seeking a few forward-thinking people to help in this exciting endeavor. If you feel a spiritual tug to take part in this exciting time for our church, see either Ben or our congregation president, Steve O’Neil.

Our church has been inspired and guided by the Holy Spirit to accomplish many amazing things over the past two centuries. What opportunities are being presented to us now at the beginning of the 21st century? Together in mission with all of you, I look forward to finding out what lies ahead for Zion’s Union Church!

Pastor Jeff

OUR SYMPATHIES TO

... the family of Perma Mertz.

MYSTERY MEMBER

Our mystery member last month was Nikki Phillips. She is taking a very active part in the life of the congregation. Unfortunately, new working hours have somewhat limited her church attendance.

This month you will be introduced to a very valuable member of the congregation. She was born at home in Mertztown and continued to live in the same house where she was born until she married.

Among her memories from her teens is an embarrassing event, which occurred at the big water hole at Shell's Miniature Golf while on a Youth Group outing. She fell in, actually several times, since she slipped while trying to get out. She also recalls working at the Kutztown Folk Festival starting at age 14. And then there happy times at Dorney Park with her mom, sister, aunt, and cousins on hot dog and report card days.

She is a graduate of Brandywine Heights Area High School.

She is married. Movies were and still are one of their favorite things to do. Her husband had never been to a Halloween Parade before they dated. And one time she fell asleep at his apartment while watching a movie early in the relationship.

They were married at Zion's Maxatawny in 1984. The groom was in charge of bringing all the tuxedos to the church. However, he forgot a pair of pants so he and the ring bearer went to get them and they had not returned by ceremony time so there as a slight delay. They honeymooned in Disney World. She and her husband have a daughter.

After high School she worked at KATO's Blouse Factory, Kutztown, mostly in the cutting department, until they closed. She also worked part time in the Processing Department of Prudential AARP. In addition, she was also a part time employee at a Mother's Morning Out Program at Bethany Church.

A cat owns the family.

Among her hobbies are volunteering for community events at the park and flower park. Word puzzles are fun for her, too. She has led a summer water aerobics class for 13 years. Other activities include baking and walking.

Her church activities are numerous and include Church Board, Sunday School, WIZ, Adult Fellowship, and others. She also helps prepare the Communion Table. To name them all would make your identification too easy.

Do you know who this busy woman is?

Dear Zion's Union Church Maxatawny,

Bethany Children's Home provides a safe haven for youth to heal and learn new skills for their journey in coping with the past and preparing for the future. Thank you for your in-kind contribution of Helping Hands Wishlist Items.

Dear Zion's Union church Maxatawny,

Thank you for your generous gift of $301.13 to be used in support of Bethany Children's Home's Helping Hand Fund. The Home has expanded its services to provide temporary shelter to unaccompanied children who have crossed the borders to enter the United States. It is our mission to reunite the children with their family members who already reside in the United States. Bethany previously united 188 children with their families about five years ago under a one-year grant. The new grant is a three-year grant. Thank you for helping our youth take the right steps to a Brighter Future.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Shultz Spano
Director of Development

Dear Jeff,

I had a wonderful time September 8th with you and the members of Zion Maxatawny as we celebrated the early "shredding" of the mortgage on the building addition. The spirit of the service was uplifting, and the spirit of the congregation was exciting and hopeful. I was blessed to be present.

Thank you for all you did to make my participation so easy. It is clear to me that your relationship to the congregation is positive and productive.

Please convey my gratitude to the members of Zion for the extraordinary expressions of hospitality extended to me. Their warmth and welcome made me feel relaxed and cared for. I will always be grateful.

Thanks also for including me on the meal following worship. It was delicious!

Sincerely,
Bishop Sam Zeiser
